€ EURO - Banknotes

The austrian EURO-notes show architectural styles, which represent Europe's culture and are a connecting element. In the context of a total-european competition, the design from the notes-designer Robert Kalina was chosen from the OeNB. The EURO-notes are uniformly created without national differences and are valid in the whole EURO-area.

Additionally to a special paper, integrated water-mark and security strip, there will also be gravure technique, special colours and security foils. For safety reasons, the finally look of the bank notes will be released on 1st of September 2001. Until this day only the designs get released. Different colours, sizes and values make the EURO-notes user-friendly and easy to recognize; great value numbers and different formats make the distinction for blind people and people, who don't see good, easier.
